- Meridian was established in 1893 and incorporated in 1903, with a population of 200.
- Meridian was originally named Hunter, after its first postal superintendent.
- Meridian is named for the Boise Meridian, the Idaho land surveyor's north-south line running through Initial Point, located 16 miles due south of the city.
- For many years, Meridian was known as a dairy center. Its Dairy Days festival has been celebrated annually in one form or another since 1929.
- Meridian has been the fastest growing city in Idaho since 1994, with the population tripling between 1990 and 2000, and more than doubling between 2000 and 2008.
- For two consecutive years, Meridian was named one of the nation's "100 Best Communities for Young People."
- Due to a slight population shift westward, Meridian is now recognized as being the population center of the Treasure Valley.

Fair Housing Act
The Federal Fair Housing Act is part of the 1968 Civil Rights Act that prohibits discrimination in the sale, rental and financing of dwellings and other housing-related transactions based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status and disabilities. To learn more about the Fair Housing Act, please visit the HUD website at:
www.hud.gov/offices/fheo/

Accessibility (ADA)
The Fair Housing Act was amended in 1988 to provide protections from discrimination in any aspect of the sale or rental of housing for families with children and persons with disabilities. The Fair Housing Act also establishes requirements for the design and construction of new rental or for-sale multi-family housing to ensure a minimum level of accessibility for persons with disabilities.
